Study Buddies

How it works

Visit the Study Buddy forum and review the posts from your fellow Community members. If there is one that resonates with what you are looking for – Great! Reach out to that member on the thread and let them know you are interested in being their buddy.

If you don't see a request that resonates with you, go ahead and create your own post to let the Community know what you're looking for in a Study Buddy. People who resonate, can post their reply to you, and you can connect to see if it's a match made in Tarot Heaven 😊

Please include the following in your forum post ...

Subject: I'm looking for a Study Buddy!

- Introduce yourself! (What is your experience level? Beginner, Aspiring, Professional?)
- What are you hoping to gain from having a Study Buddy?
- What do you want to work on?
- What do you have to offer your buddy?
- How are you willing to meet/study? (Skype, Email, Zoom, In Person ... etc.)
- Where are you located? (timezone)
- Anything else relevant to your needs!

Rules and Expectations

By posting a request for a study buddy, you agree to the following terms and conditions:

- There is no guarantee that you will be matched with a Study Buddy. Buddies are available based on their own time, and there may not always be someone available that matches your needs.
- You promise to do your best to communicate with your Buddy regularly
  - Be open in your communication – if the partnership is not working out, it's OK! Just say so 😊
  - If you wish to discontinue your studies, or cancel your membership – you must make your buddy aware that you will no longer be available.
  - It is up to you to continue the partnership! Biddy Tarot will not intervene if communication ceases.
    - If this is the case, please post another request for a study buddy!
- Biddy Tarot will not facilitate this process, provide study materials or host meeting sessions for study buddies.

Best Practices and How to make the most of your study time

- Agree ahead of time how and when you will meet. Here are some ideas ...
  - Once per month via Skype
  - Weekly via phone calls
  - Monthly, in person at a local café
  - Daily via email or Community Messaging
- Have a plan of action for studying. Here are some ideas ...
  - Major Arcana Review
  - Minor Arcana Review
  - Do the Tarot 101 Course together!
  - Practice readings on each other
  - Discuss strategies for building your business/client base
